Department Information
Anthropology lies at the intersection of the multiple approaches to the study of humankind that characterize other disciplines — biological, social, cultural, historical, linguistic, cognitive, material, technological and aesthetic — because of its unique holistic perspective. These multiple approaches are encapsulated in the four traditional subfields that have composed the discipline since its establishment in the 19th century: cultural (http://sites.clas.ufl.edu/anthropology/department-subfields/cultural-anthropology), archaeological (http://sites.clas.ufl.edu/anthropology/department-subfields/archaeology), biological (http://sites.clas.ufl.edu/anthropology/department-subfields/biological-anthropology) and linguistic (http://sites.clas.ufl.edu/anthropology/department-subfields/linguistic-anthropology) anthropology.
