

ANCIENT LANGUAGE

Classical Studies is an interdisciplinary major, with specializations in ancient language, classical civilization, and teacher certification that offer students instruction in the history, literature, and culture of the ancient Greeks and Romans. These three specializations require proficiency in Latin or ancient Greek. A fourth specialization in modern Greek offers students instruction in the language, literature, and culture of modern Greece and requires proficiency in modern Greek.

Curriculum

- Classical Studies
- Classical Studies Minor
- Greek Studies Minor

Students who major in classical studies are well equipped for a wide variety of career opportunities. Students can pursue graduate studies in classical languages and literature, art history, ancient history, archaeology, and museum studies. Small class sizes, emphasis on critical thinking and expression, and a faculty committed to involvement in undergraduate courses also make this major appealing to students who want excellent preparation for entry to professional schools (e.g., medicine or law).

The Ancient Language track is designed for students wishing to have direct contact with the literature and culture of the ancients, and for those who plan to do graduate study in Greek or Latin. Students interested in admission to competitive graduate programs need a minimum of three years of upper-division courses in ancient Greek or Latin and an additional year in the remaining language.

Requirements for the Major

For the Ancient Language specialization of the Classical Studies major students must complete 21 credits of major coursework and 3-10 credits of Ancient Language foundation coursework for a total of 24-41 credits.

Students must earn a minimum grade of C in a course for it to be applied to the major; no S/U courses can be applied.

The Department of Classics requires that a minimum of 15 credits of major-related courses must be UF credit.

Required Coursework

Students must demonstrate proficiency in Latin or ancient Greek through one of these four options:

1. 8-10 credits of beginning Latin or beginning ancient Greek:

Code	Title	Credits
Select one beginning Latin option:		10
Option A
LAT 1120	Beginning Latin 1
LAT 1101	Beginning Latin 2
LAT 1104	Beginning Latin 3
Option B
LAT 1130	Accelerated Beginning Latin 1
LAT 1131	Accelerated Beginning Latin 2
OR
Select one beginning ancient Greek option:		8-10
Option A
GRE 1120	Beginning Ancient Greek 1
GRE 1121	Beginning Ancient Greek 2
Option B
GRE 1130	Accelerated Beginning Ancient Greek 1
GRE 1131	Accelerated Beginning Ancient Greek 2

- Students with high school Latin complete the sequence based upon their score on the SAT II Latin test (or other placement mechanism).
- A score of 3 or above on one of the AP Latin exams (Latin Literature or Vergil).
- Completion of LNW 2630 or a 2000-level ancient Greek course.
- A 3000-level course in the original Latin or Greek literature.

¹ Students who complete the language requirement using a 3000-level course in Latin or Greek literature need only three Latin or Greek courses at the 3000 level or above.

² The undergraduate coordinator may approve courses from the departments of Anthropology, Art, History, Philosophy, Political Science, and Religion to meet this requirement.

Students planning to go to graduate school in classical languages and literature will need more credits in ancient languages.

Overseas Studies

Students may participate in summer, semester, or academic year programs in Italy and Greece. Competitive scholarships for study abroad are available.

Placement

Refer to Placement Testing and Evaluation for information on placement into Latin.

Critical Tracking

Critical Tracking records each student's progress in courses that are required for progress toward each major. Please note the critical-tracking requirements below on a per-semester basis.

For degree requirements outside of the major, refer to CLAS Degree Requirements: Structure of a CLAS Degree.

Equivalent critical-tracking courses as determined by the State of Florida Common Course Prerequisites (<https://cpm.flvc.org/advance-search/>) may be used for transfer students.

Semester 1

- 2.0 UF GPA required

Semester 2

- Complete one Latin or ancient Greek course ¹
- 2.0 UF GPA required

Semester 3

- 2.0 UF GPA required

Semester 4

- Complete one additional Latin or ancient Greek course with 2.5 critical-tracking GPA
- 2.0 UF GPA required

Semester 5

- Complete two Latin or ancient Greek courses with 2.5 critical-tracking GPA
- 2.0 UF GPA required

Semester 6

- Complete 2 of the remaining required courses
- 2.0 UF GPA required

Semester 7

- Complete all of the remaining required courses
- 2.0 UF GPA required

Semester 8

- Complete CLA 4931 (Capstone)
- 2.0 UF GPA required

¹ Students with prior Greek or Latin and an SAT II Latin score of 540 or higher, a 3 or higher on the AP Latin exam or a 4 or higher on the IB exam will begin with more advanced courses.

Model Semester Plan

Students are expected to complete the Writing, Civic Literacy, summer enrollment, and Quest requirements while in the process of taking the courses below. Students are also expected to complete the general education international (GE-N) requirements concurrently with another general education requirement (typically, GE-C, H, or S) as part of the CLAS Basic Distribution requirements. One of the two general education mathematics courses must be a pure math course.

College of Liberal Arts and Sciences allows students additional flexibility in its Distribution Requirements. Students may count a maximum of 6 credits TOTAL from the CLAS Distribution course lists towards Humanities, Social and Behavioral Sciences, or Biological and Physical Sciences, with no more than 3 credits of Humanities, 3 credits of Social and Behavioral Sciences, or 6 credits of Biological or Physical Sciences.

The full list of major-specific requirements for this major can be found on the Overview tab. College of Liberal Arts and Sciences degree requirements can be found on the College's degree requirements page. (<https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/colleges-schools/UGLAS/#degreerequirementstext>)

To remain on track, students must complete the appropriate critical-tracking courses, which appear in bold. These courses must be completed by the terms as listed above in the Critical Tracking criteria.

This semester plan represents an example progression through the major. Actual courses and course order may be different depending on the student's academic record and scheduling availability of courses. Prerequisites still apply.

Academic Learning Compact

The Bachelor of Arts in Classical Studies, with specializations in classical civilization, ancient language, teacher certification, or modern Greek studies provides a strong foundation in the liberal arts through study of the language, literature, monuments, and history of ancient Greece and Rome. Students will develop linguistic, critical thinking, and writing skills while gaining knowledge of classical civilization. Students also will explore the connection between the ancient and modern worlds and discover the contributions of classical culture to western civilization.

Before Graduating Students Must

- Successfully complete a department capstone course for majors.
- Complete requirements for the baccalaureate degree, as determined by faculty.

Students in the Major Will Learn toStudent Learning Outcomes | SLOs*Content

1. Translate passages of Latin, ancient Greek, or Modern Greek literature into English.

Critical Thinking

2. Recognize and explain the connection between the ancient and modern worlds and the contribution of Classical culture to Western civilization.

Communication

3. Write competently in Latin, ancient Greek, or Modern Greek using correct grammar and vocabulary of one or more of these languages. For Modern Greek, speak and comprehend competently.
