FRENCH AND FRANCOPHONE STUDIES MINOR

French is considered a strategic language for global communications in matters of security, health, business, and cultural exchange. A minor in French and Francophone studies enhances language skills and cultural competency and complements majors from the humanities to the sciences, engineering, business, and the arts.

About this Program

• College: Liberal Arts and Sciences
• Credits: 17, completed with minimum grades of C
• Contact: 301 Pugh Hall
• Related French and Francophone Studies Programs