

HEALTH DISPARITIES IN SOCIETY MINOR

Health disparities describe the disproportionate burden of disease, lack of access to health care, and poorer health outcomes that affect minoritized populations. Health disparities exist at multiple levels of society (global, national, institutional, local, and personal) and affect people of diverse geographic locations, linguistic groups, socioeconomic statuses, and sociocultural groups. Housed in the Center for Gender, Sexualities, and Women's Studies Research (CGSWSR), the Health Disparities in Society (HDS) minor provides an interdisciplinary and intersectional framework to examine how multiple social inequalities (e.g., along class, gender, race, sexuality) intersect to produce disparities in health and how to work toward preventing and mitigating such disparities.

About this Program

- College: Liberal Arts and Sciences (<http://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/colleges-schools/UGLAS/>)
- Credits: 15 | Completed with minimum grades of C and no optional S/U | 9 must be at the 3000-level or above

Center Information

The Center for Gender, Sexualities, and Women's Research advances research, teaching, and leadership on how multiple systems of power intertwine to shape culture, society, and people's lived experiences. Students explore how gender, class, race, sexuality, and other systems of power shape important domains such as health, work, culture, media, politics, leadership, and organizations. Students also learn how to put this knowledge into practice to transform these systems

- Women's Studies Minor

Requirements

- No more than three credits of independent study may count toward the minor.
- Students must complete a minimum of six credits of coursework exclusive to the minor that cannot count toward the major(s) or other minors.
- Students must complete at least three courses at the 3000 level or higher and each must be at least three credits.
- Although students must complete WST 2322 before enrolling in WST 4941C, they may take the elective courses in any order at any time (i.e., before, during, or after taking the two required courses).
- Students are encouraged to indicate their intention to enroll in WST 4941C as soon as they commit to the minor, by completing this form (<https://wst.ufl.edu/files/4941C-Intent-to-Complete-Form.pdf>).
- Sometimes, and with the approval of the undergraduate coordinator for Women's Studies, students may petition to have other, relevant classes approved as substitutes within each category of electives within the minor. Such courses could include department special topics offering with numbers like 3930, 4930.

Each semester, courses offered for this minor are listed on the Women's Studies courses website.
